

University of Melbourne
Department of Economics and Melbourne Institute (MIAESR)
Microeconometrics Research Unit (MRU)

Australian and International Perspectives on the Economics of Immigration

Friday 19th November 2010

Location: Theatre 2, ground floor, Economics and Commerce Building, University of Melbourne Parkville Campus

- 9.00-10.00 Weiping Kostenko, Centre for the Economics of Education and Training (CEET), Monash University
The Effects of Changed Migration Policy and Self-Selected Migration on Labour Market Success and Mental Wellbeing of Australian Immigrants.
- 10.00-11.00 Mathias Sinning, Research School of Economics, Australian National University
Labor Market Effects of Immigration: Empirical Evidence from German Neighborhood SOEP Data.
- 11.00-11.15 Morning Tea
- 11.15-12.00 Mark Cully, Chief Economist, Department of Immigration and Citizenship
- 12.00-13.00 Lunch
- 13.00-14.00 Marta Tienda, Office of Population Research, Princeton University
Adult Consequences of Age at Migration: Marital Exogamy and Status Exchange
- 14.00-15.00 Steve Stillman, Motu Economic and Public Policy Research
Immigration and Innovation.
- 15.00-15.30 Afternoon Tea
- 15.30-16.30 Andrew Clarke, Department of Economics, University of Melbourne
Why Do Immigrant Workers in Australia Perform So Much Better than in Canada? Is it the Immigrants or their Labour Markets?

There is no cost for attending the workshop. Refreshments and lunch will be provided.

A dinner will be held after the workshop. Our speakers will be guests of the Microeconometrics Research Unit. Dinner is expected to be around $70-$80 per person for others who wish to attend. Please RSVP by Friday 12th November to Heidi Bacher (heidimb@unimelb.edu.au) for lunchtime catering purposes, and please indicate whether you will also be attending the dinner.